Safe-T Group's CEO explains how the launch of its cyber threat mitigation tool has grown revenue numbers

Safe-T Group Ltd. (NASDAQ:SFET) CEO Shachar Daniel explains to Proactive why the Israel-based cyber security company is giving guidance in the range of $4.85 million to $4.95 million for its fiscal fourth quarter, compared to $3.28 million during 2019.

Daniel says the combination of the launch of its Zero Trust Access solutions, changing its go-to-market strategy, as well as a favorable stay-at-home environment had led the firm to scale up revenues. The group is due to report earnings in March.

About Safe-T®

Safe-T Group Ltd. (Nasdaq, TASE: SFET) is a provider of Zero Trust Access solutions which mitigate attacks on enterprises' business-critical services and sensitive data, while ensuring uninterrupted business continuity.

Safe-T's cloud and on-premises solutions ensure that an organization's access use cases, whether into the organization or from the organization out to the internet, are secured according to the "validate first, access later" philosophy of Zero Trust. This means that no one is trusted by default from inside or outside the network, and verification is required from everyone trying to gain access to resources on the network or in the cloud.

Safe-T's wide range of access solutions reduce organizations' attack surface and improve their ability to defend against modern cyberthreats. As an additional layer of security, our integrated business-grade global proxy solution cloud service enables smooth and efficient traffic flow, interruption-free service, unlimited concurrent connections, instant scaling and simple integration with our services.

With Safe-T's patented reverse-access technology and proprietary routing technology, organizations of all size and type can secure their data, services and networks against internal and external threats.

At Safe-T, we empower enterprises to safely migrate to the cloud and enable digital transformation.
